Feeling supported, Feeling at home

Studying in the UK, you might feel overwhelmed by the cultural differences between home and the UK.

The University of Warwick is home to many students from all over the globe.

Here at Warwick, rest assured, you will soon get familiar with the new way of life!

Student Support

"Warwick's wellbeing services are here for you with great online self-help resources, or consultations if you'd like to talk to someone. Reaching out to wellbeing was one of the best things I could have done for myself."

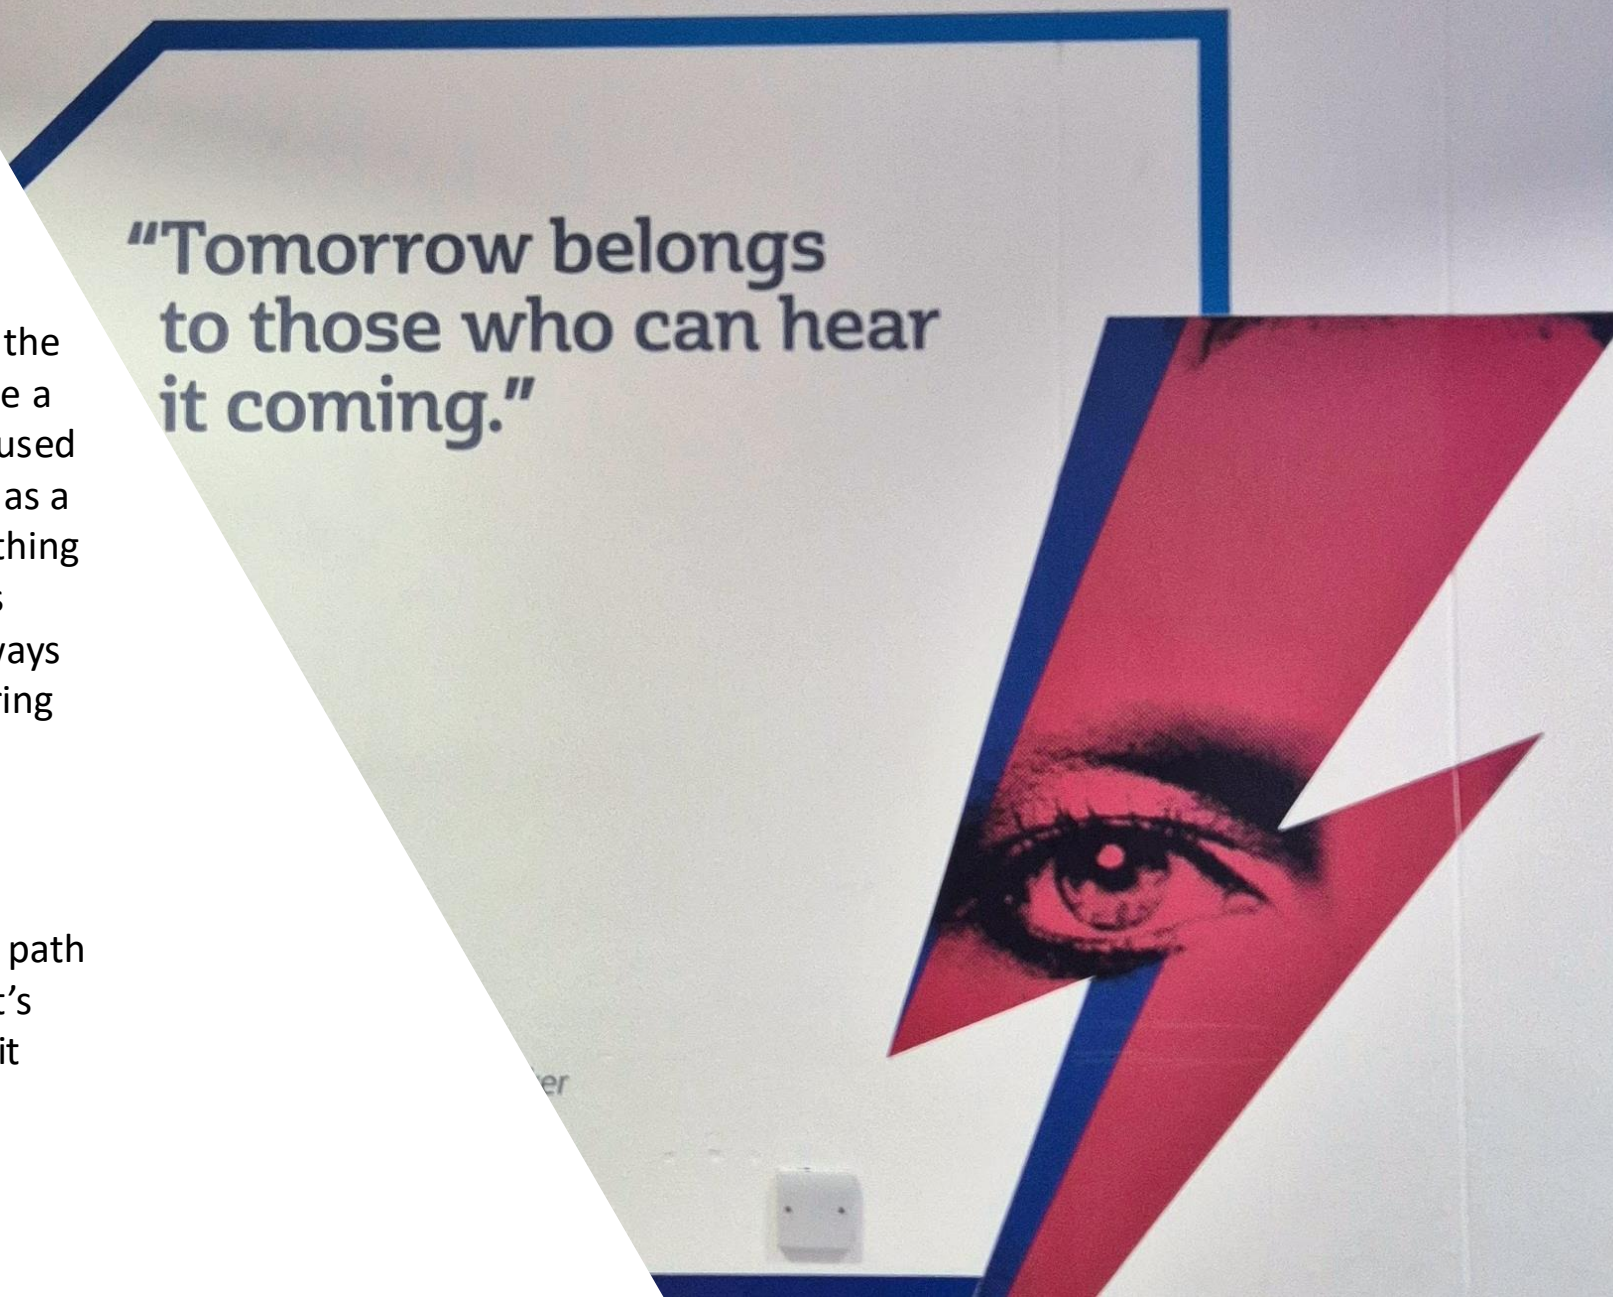

Abigail,
Applied Linguistics graduate

Student Voice – Victoria, 1st year BSc Management

“I was immediately drawn to Warwick because of the strong support system offered to students. It made a big difference to know the university isn’t just focused on grades but genuinely cares about who you are as a person and who you are becoming. My favourite thing about the department is the support; whether it’s academic, career-related, or personal, there is always someone to turn to if I need guidance. It’s reassuring to know that support is always available.

Warwick is a place you can be yourself, find your people, and receive all the support you need to achieve your goals. I genuinely feel like I’m on the path to achieving things I once only hoped for, and that’s largely because of Warwick and the environment it provides.”

A poster is displayed on a wall. It features a quote in a dark blue font: "Tomorrow belongs to those who can hear it coming." Below the quote is a graphic of a human eye, rendered in a high-contrast, almost black and white style, looking upwards. The eye is partially obscured by a large, stylized red and blue lightning bolt shape that cuts across the lower right portion of the poster. The poster is framed by a thick blue border.

Student Voice – Eduarda, 2nd year LLB Law

“I chose Warwick because I absolutely loved the campus; the nature and spots where you can sit down and chat with friends or read solo are some of my favourite things. The best thing about Warwick is that it’s a campus university which I was looking for, but only 30 minutes via public transport from really nice towns and only 60 minutes from London, meaning students can enjoy both a quiet and busy life. The academic department really support you throughout your time, which is my favourite thing about studying Law here.

Warwick has so many societies you can join! I am part of the Content Team at TEDx Warwick which is great for networking. If you’re looking to build close relationships while enjoying a campus life, definitely consider Warwick. I’ve met some of my best friends studying at Warwick and because most people live on campus, it’s really easy to form close connections. Warwick has, up to now, provided me with some of the best memories I’ll ever have.”
